TIMELINE

1948 The Seaholm Power Plant commissioned		eaholm Plant	The plant dedicated posthumously to former Austin Director of Utilities and City Manager Walter E. Seaholm.		Seaholm ceases generating power, effectively retiring it from use.		City of Austin developed a Re-development Master Plan for the Seaholm District.		Seaholm Power Plant becomes a Texas Historic Landmark.		Groundbreaking by Seaholm Power LLC on the project redevelopment.		2016 Seaholm Residences, Boiler Nine Bar + Grill and True Foods Kitchen open.
	The Seaho Power Pla constructe two phase		nt d in	City of Austin's Historic Resources survey targets Seaholm for its highest priority rating of a building to be preserved.		The Austin City Council authorizes the Plant's decommission in preparation for re-development, and the remaining three generators are shut down.		Austin-based Southwest Strategies Group is selected to redevelop the historic power plant and surrounding land.		The Austin City Council approves a Master Development Agreement with Seaholm Power, LLC and a Tax Increment Financing Reinvestment Zone.		athenahealth, Trader Joe's Grocery and Under Armour Connected Fitness HQ open for business.
1950-5		1950-58	1984		1996		2005		2008			2015	